Dear Parishioners, in today's gospel, we are inspired with image of a generous and gracious God whose love has no bound. He is open to those who have the privilege of knowing him from birth and those who later discover and believe in him in the later days of their lives. It further encourages us to be happy for other when good things happen to them rather than think that we deserve better than them. God's way are not our ways.

PARISH UPDATES: Mass Booking: as Catholics 'The Holy Mass' is our perfect offering of Christ to the father. Every Mass is worth as much as the sacrifice of our Lord's suffering and death. We can book Masses for ourselves, families, and friends on the occasions of their birthdays, wedding anniversaries, and private intentions and on the death anniversaries of those close to us who have died. We are therefore encouraged to book Masses as often as we can. Envelopes are available at the back of the church.

Reinstating of Eucharistic Ministers: In a bid to reinstate the parish Eucharistic ministers and to enable those who will love to receive the Holy communion in both species, there will be a retreat for already existing Eucharistic ministers in the parish on Thursday the 28th (this week) at St Cuthbert's church by 7pm. We hereby, invite all Eucharistic ministers to please be in attendance.

Fire Evacuation Practice: Dear parishioners, in compliance to the health and safety policies within the Archdiocese, we shall have a fire evacuation practice after each Mass this weekend, 23rd /24th of September, at St Cuthbert's. A later date will be communicated to us for the same practice at Our Lady's Currie.
